

© 1997–2004, Millennium Mathematics Project, University of Cambridge.

Permission is granted to print and copy this page on paper for non-commercial use. For other uses, including electronic redistribution, please contact us.

January 1999

Staff room

International Mathematics Enrichment Conference

If you are involved with mathematics education, and are interested in the possibilities of ICT, then this is the conference for you. Taking place on the 2nd–4th July 1999, in Cambridge, at the Isaac Newton Institute of Mathematical Sciences, the 2 day conference will see the launch of the Millennium Mathematics Project. The final morning offers a choice of INSET courses with hands-on workshops in ICT.

Full details are online at <http://nrich.maths.org.uk/conference/conference-details.htm>

G.M.P.

Plus is part of the family of activities in the Millennium Mathematics Project, which also includes the NRICH and MOTIVATE sites.